GYM COMPARED TO CLOSET

It is a fact that the physical education building at UTMB is as good as a closet. It is a fact that the physical education building at UTMB is as good as a closet. It is a fact that the physical education building at UTMB is as good as a closet.

It is a fact that the physical education building at UTMB is as good as a closet. It is a fact that the physical education building at UTMB is as good as a closet. It is a fact that the physical education building at UTMB is as good as a closet.

Ever and anon we hear faint rumors that these really aren't the reasons, however. And the rumors grow until someone is heard saying—"I understand you're getting a new physical education building at UTMB pretty soon." But that "pretty soon" has already proven not to be soon enough. Still that eternal springing of hope hangs on, and maybe some day as we totter across campus, we'll be led to a structure befitting the size and needs of UTMB.

THEN we can really, really, dear hearts,

WHITHER GREEK LETTER GROUPS?

Where do we go from here? Now that the Board of Trustees has decided to build a new physical education building at UTMB, what will happen to the Greek letter groups?

President Holt Says 'Thank You'

January 30, 1960

Dear Miss Flowers:
All of us who had the rare privilege of attending the recent Board of Trustees Lunch at UTMB, Martin, are indebted to you and your lovely young ladies for one of the most delicious and abundant meals we have ever enjoyed. I am still kicking myself for my failure to remain in Martin until the last morsel of the food you so generously prepared had been consumed.

Not only was every item on your menu a masterpiece in culinary art, but the young ladies who served it all looked so beautiful they were finalists in the Miss America contest. Will you please express to all of them our thanks for the food and the lovely service they provided.

Alpha Gammas Apply For Status

The Alpha Gamma Rho chapter at UTMB has written a petition for recognition and is asking you to have a copy of their constitution before the Student Organizations Board.

Alpha Gamma Rho is a professional social club organized at the first of this quarter. The membership now consists of agriculture students but the club's intent is to allow about 10 percent of their membership to include students of other curricula. The present membership is 20 with plans for a pledge class to materialize next quarter.

Lewis Larsen, a member of the agriculture faculty, is sponsor of the club. Elected officers are: Ed Perryman, president; Sammie McCoy, first vice president; Stanley Miller, second vice president; Charles Hord, secretary; G. G. Gresham, treasurer; George Haynes, reporter; and Billy Thomas, ASU representative.

The intent of this club is to become affiliated with a national agriculture fraternity, to supply a source for better relationship between agricultural students and the agriculture faculty and to promote the better interests of the Agriculture Department of UTMB.

February 15 to 19 will be YWA Focus Week. YWAs will be in charge of the programs.

February 22 to 26 will be Christian Dating and Courtship week. Couples will be in charge of the week's programs.

Dear Editor:

The Administration Building has been in use for almost a year now and as yet no reasonable progress has been made toward improving the parking situation. We were assured that the restrictive parking would be a temporary measure but it appears that the administration feels that this arrangement has solved the problem.

If this is the case, I wish to voice a strong objection to the status quo, and solicit increased editorial support in an effort to evoke a more suitable arrangement. If this is not the case, I request that a full report stating clearly the administration's plans for the future and its estimate as to how far this plan is from execution be presented. Wanda Dodson Is High Scorer

The women's basketball tournament was completed Monday, February 8, with Orange team defeating White team 51 to 50 for the championship. The high scorer for the winning team was Wanda Dodson with 34 points. High scorer for the losing team was Nancy Bunch with 40 points.

Monday afternoon after the game members of the four teams who were in the finals selected a noutstanding player from each team. Selected by Orange team was Wanda Dodson, White team Nancy Bunch, Yellow team Janis Rainey, and Red team selected Betty Castellow.

In the semi-final games

Pledge trainer Cotton Ray announced that the Phi Sigma Kappa class for the quarter has been closed to new pledges. There are 20 pledges this quarter.

Jimmy Zimmerman resigned his position as assistant pledge trainer and the job was taken by Eddie Wayne Thomas.

The active members and their dates attended a party in Union City at the Country Club on Jan. 30. Chaperons for the social were Mrs. Harriet Pickell, Tom Noble, and Sgt. and Mrs. Butler.

The fraternity sponsored Nancy Lawson in the campus beauty contest. The group is also helping with the sale of student directories.

At the past trustees' meeting, the local Phi Sigma Kappa members gained a big step in their drive for a national chapter according to Howard Burns, reporter. The trustees gave their approval for fraternities and opened the way for the nationalization of the local colony. At the present time the trustees are working on rules and regulations to govern the campus fraternities. Upon completion, the trustees' action assured the Phi Sigs that they will be activated. Word has been received that this will take place some time in Spring quarter.

ON THE SCENE

By JIM JINKINS

Every thinking person agrees that cheating is a major problem on American campuses today. But very little is said or done about it. Recently I talked to a number of students and faculty, asking their opinions on cheating. Most agreed that it is wrong. Opinion was more varied on the causes of cheating. The acuteness of a teacher's senses and his personality were factors mentioned. Others blamed the so called objective tests. Certainly an important factor is the absurd over emphasis on grades. This probably explains why pre-medical students are the worst offenders. But the most important factor is probably apathy among the student body. Cheating is done openly by the minority because the majority condones it.

What should be done about cheating? Again opinions vary. One student thinks that lowering the student's grade on the test on which he was caught cheating would be enough. One suggested immediate expulsion from school. Most students and faculty members were divided between an F on the test or on the course. A friend of mine thinks each instance of cheating should be permanently marked on a student's transcript. This seems a little harsh for the first offense, but not for the second or third. I have cheated myself in years past and know from experience that only a person who cheats regularly is likely to get caught more than once.

We as students have no control over grading or discipline. But we can control cheating on this campus by a very simple method—speaking out. Not in the church groups or in anonymous letters, but on campus and in the classroom.

The last Literary Club meeting was a resounding success. The program was a reading of the first act of Gay's Beggar's Opera by Dr. Wilson, Dr. Byington and Miss Fulton. After a slow introduction the pace speeded up as Polly Peachum defied her criminal parents by marrying a highwayman. Dr. Wilson's light relaxed music carried the lyrics along beautifully. It would have been worth coming just to see Dr. Byington wearing the hat which indicated Mrs. Peachum while father, mother and daughter fought it out on stage.

According to members of the Intramural staff this basketball tournament has been one of the best tournaments to ever be held on the UTMB campus.

The deadline for Round 3 in the women's shuffleboard tournament is noon Saturday, February 13.

Some of the players who have advanced into the 4th round are Kay Kerr—Blue team, Ann Gresham—Green team, Johnnie Alexander—Red team, Joy Yates—Brown team, Mollie Adkisson—Brown team and Janice Grissom of Blue team.

Betty Huffman the 1959 women's champion was defeated by Nancy Agee of White team. Agee may be the participant in this tournament to watch.

Carnicus is getting closer and the opportunity to make intramural points is greater than ever. Points may be earned by working on the decoration committee, by participating in extra practice sessions and by being a member of any special acts. These are just a few of the ways one may add to their accumulation of intramural points. Of course there are intramural trophies and intramural letters to work toward and Carnicus gives us one of the best opportunities to do this.

The new team standings as of February 9 are as follows: Orange 345 points; Black 312 points; Yellow 300 points; White 268 points; Blue 249 points; Green 206 points; Red 158 points; and Brown 130 points.

Members of the association voted to hold a statewide Holstein sale at the Fairgrounds in Nashville. The date has been set tentatively as April 25.

The association set as a goal the promotion of interest in the Holstein breed among the young people of the state, including FFA and 4-H Club members.

Principal speaker at the morning session was Miles McCarr, extension editor of the Holstein Association of America, Brattleboro, Vt. Others appearing on program were Robert Cain, regional American Association fieldman of Knoxville, and John Brower, UT extension dairy specialist of Knoxville.

Student Portrays Ideal Professor

(Editor's Note: The following piece was submitted to The Vquette by a UTMB student. Had it been submitted anonymously it would have been assigned to the "round file". Since it appears to have considerable merit, we present it for our readers' consideration. The name of the contributor has been withheld by request.)

If I were a teacher I would:

1. Try to realize at all times that I am a public servant to the people and students, and whenever possible I would always try to teach the things that they wanted and most needed to learn.

2. Be interested in teaching my course and act enthusiastic whether I liked it or not at all times.

3. Keep up with current events at all times, revise notes frequently and stay away from set notes or lectures. Students realize a teacher can't know everything and will be better satisfied to leave set lectures behind and try to come up with new ideas even if teachers don't know all the answers. Anyone can take the same notes for twenty years and know all the answers in them.

4. Encourage discussions among students in the classrooms as long as it goes along with the principles being taught.

5. Not try to cover a set book. It's better to learn fifty pages well than to skim over five hundred.

6. Use lab periods for labs. They weren't set up for two hour lectures.

7. Keep students in class for the full two hours of a lab. He, his parents, and citizens of the state are paying for it. When a class turns out early, only the teacher benefits. However, I wouldn't keep students if I didn't have anything prepared. If I ran out of prepared material, I wouldn't "beat around the bush" the rest of the period just to kill an hour.

8. At all times show no partiality to any student. Grades would be given according to how much a student knows—not how much he can brown nose.

9. Keep personal tales, acts and jokes to a minimum. If students want to see a side show they will probably prefer to go to a circus.

10. Never let one of my tests get into the hands of any student before test time. I wouldn't kid myself by thinking that they don't get out all too frequently.

Twenty-Seven Elected UTMB Campus Leaders

Campus leader elections drew students to the polls Tuesday, January 19, for selecting the outstanding men and women of the campus.

Monte Bayless, a senior in education from Bruceton, and Laraine Fields, a sophomore in physical education from South Fulton, gained the greatest number of votes to be named Mr. and Miss UTMB.

Monte, vice-president of the senior class, football co-captain and election commission member, is an honor roll student. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bayless, Monte has previously been Carnicus King, F. TA vice-president, and campus leader.

Laraine is serving as secretary of the sophomore class and BSU, and she is a cheerleader. An honor roll student, she has also been a member of the tennis and tumbling teams. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Fields.

Fourteen men and thirteen women (odd numbers because of ties) selected as active campus leaders are:

Mary Elizabeth Grabiell, a senior in physical education from Paris, is editor of The Volette, honor roll student, and Wesley President. Mary Lou Harding, a home economics senior from Paris, is a member of Who's Who, secretary of ASC, and the honor roll.

Jimmy Zimmerman, sophomore president in liberal arts, comes from Union City, and Benny Green, business administration junior from Paducah, Kentucky, is a member of the football team and T Club.

G. L. Teague, junior from Decaturville, is in pre-medicine, and Freddy Ashmore, agriculture junior, is from Waynesboro. Vivien Gore, Nashville sophomore, is in agriculture, and senior Jane Satterfield is from Trenton and in education.

Freshman Jeanette Sammons is in home economics and from Whiteville. Tommye Branch is a junior in engineering and from Cincinnati, Ohio.

Trustees' Action Favorable To Frats-Sororities

The University of Tennessee Board of Trustees adopted a resolution which looks with favor upon the establishment of national fraternities and sororities at UTMB, in the semi-annual meeting held on the campus January 25.

Dean Paul Meek pointed out after the meeting that it was written into the resolution that before the executive committee of the board can validate a policy under which fraternities may organize, the Knoxville and Martin administrative officials must form detailed rules and regulations under which they will be admitted and operated. It is hoped that a Knoxville meeting in the near future will have matters worked out satisfactorily, he said.

Provisions for sororities will be dealt with at the same meeting. The feeling is, however, that sororities will not be in order until the enrollment of girls moves significantly from the present 280 toward the 675 men enrolled last fall, Dean Meek pointed out.

One social fraternity, Phi Sigma Kappa, has already been organized with tentative approval by the administration and has applied for national affiliation. One other social club, Alpha Gamma Rho, has formed a tentative organization, and is expected to seek affiliation at some future date.

U-T president A. D. Holt sounded a warning to the Board of Trustees that a "tidal wave" of enrollment will hit the University in 1962. In issuing his 1962 "flood warning" President Holt said that during the fall quarter the University had approximately 12,000 students enrolled in residence on its campuses at Knoxville, Martin, Memphis, and Nashville. These were largely students who were born during the late 1930's and early 1940's when birth rates were so low that some experts predicted America was reaching a "stationary population."

The "tidal wave" of young people, born since World War II, will reach college age beginning in 1962, and it will continue to rise year by year into the middle of the 1970's. Assuming that the University will be prepared to admit all applicants, fall quarter enrollment will increase to approximately 19,200 by 1965; 26,000 by 1970; and 28,000 by 1973. These predictions appear in the Tennessee Legislative Council's long-range education study reports.

George C. Rowlett, Martin attorney and for many years a member of the U-T Board of Trustees before his retirement in 1949, was a luncheon guest of the board. He was presented the chair he used in the meeting room of the trustees in Knoxville while he was a member. J. P. Hess, secretary of the board, made the presentation.

Wayne Fisher, a board member, told the board he would ask them in June to set a date for the establishment of degree programs in business administration and liberal arts at Martin. He said that preparations for these degree programs will be far enough advanced to warrant the trustee's approval in 1961.

Other business transactions by the Board of Trustees included:

The approval of "a thorough study of the needs, costs, methods of financing, alternative solutions and other factors" relating to the proposed double-decking of a portion of the football stadium at Knoxville. The additions would provide 6,000 to 7,000 additional seats, new press box and a 200-bed dormitory for athletes at the stadium.

Recommendations are to be made at the board meeting in June.

Approval of a proposal of the U-T Memorial Research Center at Knoxville that efforts be made for the construction of an addition to the center which will be needed if the Center undertakes a proposed "space medicine" research project under sponsorship of the National Space Agency.

Bell Wins In Free Throw Event

Eugene Bell of Blue team recently demonstrated his accuracy with a basketball by winning the Free Throw tournament on Jan. 19. Gorman Avery, also of Blue Team, came in as second place winner. Each of these boys received a medal for skillful shooting.

With the basketball tournament swiftly drawing to a close, Yellow defeated White in the quarter finals on Feb. 4. This puts Yellow in the semi-finals pitted against the Orange team on Feb. 10. Prior to this, on Feb. 9, Green will play Black to determine a second winner in the semi-finals double elimination bracket. The winners of these two semi-final games will play in the finals, Feb. 11, to determine the champion team of the Men's Basketball Tournament of 1960. In climaxing this tournament, a trophy will be given to the most valuable player on each of the top four teams.

Men's table tennis, in progress since Fall quarter, is now in the semi-finals. Players are reminded that finals must be completed by Wednesday, Feb. 10. Mixed shuffleboard, also in progress since Fall Quarter, is now in the quarter finals. The deadline for finals is Feb. 9.

There are 15,000 jobs a year open to students majoring in agriculture and agriculture-related subjects, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Not So Strait-Laced

"Now that will be a premium of $15.67 per month on a straight life," said the insurance salesman. "That's what you want, isn't it?"

"Well," the customer replied, "I would like to play around a little on Saturday nights."

Governors Slip By Vols 78-75

Austin Peay eased by the UTMB Vols with three foul shots after the clock had stopped to win the game 78 to 75 here last night.

The game started with Austin Peay taking the lead and keeping it for the first half. The score at halftime was 44 to 39 in favor of Austin Peay.

In the second half the Vols began hitting pretty good and pulled ahead of the Gobs 74 to 73 with three minutes left in the game. The Governors came right back to tie the score and for the remainder of the game the teams swapped baskets.

With one second left in the game a foul was called on the Vols and the Austin Peay player made the shot to win the game. He had another shot which he made and then a foul was called against the Vol bench. The Gobs made it good to end the scoring 78 to 75.

In a short ceremony before the Austin Peay game head football coach Robert Carroll presented the football jersey bearing number 33 to Captain Bobby Fowler, signifying that the number worn for four years by the UTMB fullback has been forever retired.

Christian Brothers College soundly defeated the UTMB Vols 71 to 48 at CBC January 28.

The leading scorers were O'Connor for CBC with 22 points and Ed Jones for UTMB with 11 points.

The David Lipscomb Bisons rallied in the second half to beat the UTMB Vols 58 to 54 here January 22.

Grass Fire Causes Near Bedlam In Chicken Yard

UTMB campus was the scene of much excitement Wednesday night, February 3. A fire truck, policemen, traffic jams and squawking hens made up the near-bedlam scene.

It seems that a grass fire almost burned the Chicken Dormitory located near the Women's Residence Hall. The poor chickens were panic stricken at the thought of being left out in the cold, but gallant, fearless Frank McCann proved to be the hero of the day and heroically beat the fire out before the fire truck arrived, much to the disappointment of arriving spectators.

22 points while the Volunteer's reserves made only 7 points.

The UTMB team was playing without the help of Joe Hudson and Dave Walker due to illness. Even without the help of these players it was a close game.

The Vols led at the half 34 to 31.

CARNICUS—

legged pants and cut-away coats. The music of the era was John Phillip Sousa's marches. Minstrels and the old fashioned melodrama with a villain, hero and a beautiful young lady were also popular. The masquerade ball was another feature of this period. Polka was the popular dance and P. T. Barnum's Circus had become outstanding since the railroads had expanded making traveling easier.

Carnicus will portray all these qualities and features of the Gay Nineties era through modern, folk, square and ball room dancing, stunts and acrobatics of all kinds. Tumbling will be centered around the circus idea.

Clowns will again be an ad-complete trip covered 7,600 miles and took 429 gallons of gasoline.

ded attraction to the production of Carnicus. For the first time at UTMB a girl, Melba Whitesides, will play the part of a clown. The two others will be Monte Bayless and Ray Pollard.

Work has already begun with full force to make the Gay Nineties Frolic a success. The gym is the center of all activity with tumblers, rope jumpers, and dancers practicing. There will be continued work and practice for the approximately 300 students taking part until the last minute.

An attraction that adds to Carnicus is the decorations which were started Saturday. Jean Bonney is serving as chairman with Jenny Lou Hall as co-chairman. They are working under the direction of Miss Aaltje Van Denburg. Representatives from both men and women's intramural teams are working with them.
